Textbook: No textbook is required for this course; all course work will be done on the EdReady website at <https://southplainscollege.edready.org>. However, the instructor may recommend a textbook for additional study.

Attendance Policy: This is not a traditional face-to-face course; you will be working at your own pace and on your own schedule at the EdReady website. Until the coursework is completed, you will be required to login to make progress on your Study Path AND communicate with me at least once per week for the duration of this course. Failure to make progress AND contact me at least once per week will result in you being administratively dropped from the course with a grade of 'F' or 'X'. You can contact me by coming to see me in my office during posted office hours, by email, by phone, or by text.

Grading: This course will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Once you have completed the course with at least 90% mastery, you will have earned a grade of P, indicating "passing" for the course. If you do not achieve a 90% level of mastery by the end of the semester, you will have earned a grade of 'F' and will be required to enroll in the course again.

Supplies: Access to a computer with an internet connection is required for this course.

Accessing the Course Diagnostic and Learning Modules:

Creating an Account: First, the student will need to create an account at <https://southplainscollege.edready.org>. Here are the steps:

1. Go to this website and choose the "Get Started" option. If you already have an EdReady account, then choose the "Log In" option at the upper-right corner of the screen.
2. Complete the brief form on the "Sign Up for EdReady" screen.
3. After setting up a username and password, choose the "Enter a key to add goals" option. Your key for this course is NCBM0105_Fall2018_Johansen.

Taking the Initial Diagnostic Test: Second, after creating the account, you will need to take the initial diagnostic test.

- Please allow at least one hour for this test. However, if you need more time or need to step away, there is an option to save and exit.
- To access the initial diagnostic test, login to EdReady, click on the Go to Goal button for our class, and then click on the Start Diagnostic button.
- Please do NOT use a calculator, phone, friend, or other resource during the diagnostic.
- After completing this initial diagnostic test, you can click the View Results button to see how you did on each of the 7 Units in the course. (Green means you have shown mastery of that Unit, yellow means you need to review that Unit before retesting on it, and Red means you have more review/learning to do before retesting on it.)

Completing the Course: You complete the course by getting your score up to 90 or above.

- Each time you login, click on Go to Goal for our course, and then click View Study Path.
- You can work on Units/Topics in any order you like, but the recommended order is shown with the first Unit you need to work on listed first.

NCBM 0105.007 – Developmental Mathematics

- There is a Unit Test for each Unit that you can take to see exactly which Topics within the Unit you need to work on. If you know you aren't ready for the Unit Test, you can work on the Topics under it instead.
- Each Topic has Learn and Test buttons. If you click the Learn button, you will have access to Warm-Up, Presentation (video), Worked Examples (videos), Topic Text (reading material), Practice (problems to work), and Review (practice test). If you click on the Test button, you will get a Topic Test of 1-10 questions. If you do well on the Test, you will master the Topic, the Topic disappears from your Study Path, and your course score gets increased.
- If you are stuck or struggling on a Unit or Topic, please be sure to contact me to get some help! SPC also has tutors available on each campus to help you with math, but please don't ask them to work your problems; just ask them to help you understand the concepts.
- When your EdReady score is at least 90, you are excused for the rest of the semester!

Last day to drop is Thursday, November 15th.
